UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON POLICE DEPARTMENT

2006/2007

CAMPUS SAFETY AND CRIME STATISTICS

The University of Washington is one of the nation's outstanding universities. For a community of approximately 39,000 students and 28,000 faculty and staff, it is a relatively safe place to be; however, it is subject to many of the same problems that occur in the greater urban community in which it is located. The following information has been prepared to increase your awareness of programs that exist to protect your safety and well-being. Portions are also provided in compliance with laws of the State of Washington (RCW 28B.10.569), the federal Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act (20 USC §1145g), and the federal Student Right-to-Know and Campus Security Act (20 USC §1092).

UW POLICE DEPARTMENT

The primary responsibility for law enforcement on the campus rests with the University of Washington Police Department (UWPD). The UWPD is a state law enforcement agency. UWPD obtained national accreditation and certification in July of 2005. The UWPD works closely with the Seattle Police Department and other law enforcement agencies. Located in the southwest portion of the campus at 1117 N.E. Boat Street, the police station is staffed 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The department employs 55 commissioned police officers who have the same authority as other law enforcement officers. All officers are graduates of the Washington State Criminal Justice Training Center or an equivalent academy.

Commissioned officers patrol the campus on a 24-hour basis, staff a crime prevention unit, a detective unit, bicycle patrol, explosives detection canine, and the Residence Hall Patrol, a unit specifically assigned to the residence halls. In addition to the commissioned officers, the police department also houses Parking Enforcement, the Parking Violations Office and the Parking Citation Hearing Office.

The University of Washington Police Department is committed to the accurate gathering and timely dissemination of crime statistics and related information. The UWPD will disseminate timely warnings about crimes that arise, either on or off campus, that constitutes an ongoing or continuing threat to the university community. Timely warnings about crime may be posted on the Department's web page and through the use of email. The UW community can receive tips on crime prevention and other notices through CrimeWatch, for on campus issues and/or WatchDawg for off campus issues. To sign up for either of these programs, sign up on-line at www.washington.edu/admin/police. Victims and witnesses are encouraged to report crimes to the UWPD and may do so on a confidential basis. The UWPD monitors and records, on an annual basis, criminal activity in geographical areas of Seattle that include off-campus locations of student organizations.

The Crime Prevention Unit at UWPD offers educational presentations, which include: personal safety, office safety, campus violence prevention and readiness, and identity theft prevention. The Crime Prevention also conducts petty cash assessments and physical security surveys. You can register your bicycle and personal electronic equipment on-line at the UWPD home page at www.washington.edu/admin/police.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE IN THE WORKPLACE AWARENESS

GOVERNOR'S EXECUTIVE ORDER 96-05

Domestic violence is a serious problem that affects people from all walks of life. Domestic violence refers to abusive behavior (by either a household member or dating partner) that is either physical, sexual, and/or psychological, and intended to establish and maintain control over an individual. It can adversely affect the well-being and productivity of employees and their co-workers. Domestic Violence that intrudes into the workplace is reported by following the University of Washington Administrative Policy 11.7.(APS) Visit the APS web-site at http:// www.washington.edu/admin/rules/APS/11.07.html. It contains the policy for Reporting Workplace Related Domestic Violence. To this end, the University will provide appropriate information, support and assistance to employees. Employees who are victims or perpetrators of domestic violence are encouraged to seek assistance.

SEXUAL OFFENSES

The University is committed to providing its faculty, students and staff with an environment conducive to the pursuit of knowledge. Conduct constituting a sexual offense, whether forcible or non-forcible, such as rape, assault, forcible fondling or sexual harassment, is not tolerated. When they occur in the workplace, rape and other forcible or non-forcible sex offenses may result in a variety of disciplinary actions, including suspension or termination from the University. In cases involving an alleged sexual offense, the accuser and the accused are entitled to the same opportunities to have others present during a disciplinary hearing. Both the accuser and accused shall be informed of the outcome of any campus disciplinary proceeding as a result of an alleged sexual assault.

The Washington State Criminal Code (Title 9A RCW) defines rape as engaging in sexual intercourse with another person:

A) by forcible compulsion; or

B) when the victim is incapable of consent by reason of being physically helpless or mentally incapacitated (e.g., when the victim has consumed alcohol and/or other drugs, either voluntarily or involuntarily); or

C) when the victim does not consent to sexual intercourse with the perpetrator and such lack of consent was clearly expressed by the victim's words or conduct.

In some instances, the victim may know the assailant, but often does not realize the incident meets the legal definition of rape. Acquaintance rape may fall into any of the following categories: first and second degree rape are Class A felonies punishable under the Washington State Criminal Code by up to life in prison and/or a $50,000 fine; and third degree rape is a Class C felony punishable by up to five years in prison and/or a $10,000 fine.

If you are sexually assaulted resources are available both on campus and off campus. The University of Washington Police Department has adopted the following letter responding to sexual assault:

SEXUAL ASSAULT RESPONSE COMMITMENT

Sexual assault, including date/acquaintance rape, is a very serious concern of this Police Department. If you feel you are a victim of a sexual assault on campus, the Police Department will guarantee the following:

UWPD COMMITMENT

1. We will meet with you privately, at a time and local place of your choice, to take your report.
2. We cannot and will not notify your parents without your consent.
3. We will treat you and your particular case with courtesy, sensitivity, dignity, understanding and professionalism.
4. Our officers will not prejudge you, and you will not be blamed for what occurred.
5. We will assist you in arranging for any necessary hospital treatment or other medical needs. We will also assist in emergency housing if needed.
6. If you would feel more comfortable having a friend or advocate of your choice present, we will do our best to accommodate your request.
7. We will fully investigate your case, and will help you to achieve the best outcome. This may involve the arrest and full prosecution of the suspect responsible. You will be kept up-to-date on the progress of the investigation and/or prosecution.

8. We will assist you in privately contacting counseling and other available resources.
9. We will continue to be available to answer your questions, to explain the system and process involved (prosecutor, courts, etc.), and to be a listening ear if you wish.
10. We will consider your case seriously regardless of your gender or the gender or status of the suspect.

If you are the victim of a sexual assault, call 911 or 206–685–UWPD (8793) to reach the University of Washington Police Department (any time of day or night) to privately make a complaint.

Call a friend, or someone you trust, for support, and seek medical attention as soon as possible since all injuries are not readily apparent. Do not bathe, douche, change or wash your clothes—it is important to preserve evidence in case you decide to press charges.

If you are a victim of a sexual assault off-campus, call the Seattle Police Department or your local law enforcement agency.

You are encouraged to seek help in coping with the aftermath of the assault and in exploring and arranging for counseling. SARIS is a valuable resource when dealing with the trauma of a sexual assault: SARIS@u.washington.edu, HUB Room 240L, 206–685–HELP. There are also many off campus resources that have physicians and counselors trained in sexual-assault trauma, and offer treatment, information, support and referral. (See Directory of Services)

SEX OFFENDER NOTIFICATION

All Sex Offenders are classified into levels of risk (low, moderate, or high) at the time of their release from corrections facilities. Unless restricted by a court order, sex/kidnap offenders are constitutionally permitted to live wherever they choose. Sex Offenders are required to register with the Sheriff of the county in which they reside.

The University of Washington Police Department, Crime Prevention Unit maintains records of sex offenders who have been brought to the attention of the UWPD by either the Seattle Police Department or King County Sheriff's Office.

WHAT ARE THE DIFFERENT SEX OFFENDER LEVELS AND WHAT DO THEY MEAN?

The vast majority of registered sex offenders are classified as Level I offenders. They are considered to be a low risk to re-offend. These individuals may be first time offenders and they are usually known by their victims. Information shall be shared with other law enforcement agencies, and, upon request, any victim or witness to the offense and to any individual community member who lives near the residence where the offender resides, expects to reside, or is regularly found. Level I offenders MAY NOT be the subject of general public notification.

Level II offenders are considered to have moderate risk of re-offending. They generally have more than one victim and the abuse may be long term. These offenders usually groom their victims and may use threats to commit their crimes. Level II notifications may be disclosed to public and private schools, child day care centers, family day care providers, businesses and organizations that serve primarily children, women or vulnerable adults, and neighbors and community groups near the residence where the offender resides, expects to reside, or is regularly found. Information regarding level II sex offenders MAY BE disclosed to the public at large.

Level III offenders are deemed the greatest risk to the community. Most are predatory, have other violent crime convictions, refused treatment and are known substance abusers. Community notification is the most extensive. Information regarding Level III sex offenders MAY BE disclosed to the public at large.

ALCOHOL AND ILLEGAL DRUGS POLICY

Generally, possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages are not permitted on campus. The exceptions are 1) meetings or other functions when a state liquor banquet permit has been obtained — applications are available in the Office of the Vice Provost for Student Life and the permit is issued pursuant to regulations of the University and the Washington State Liquor Control Board; or 2) in residence hall rooms or apartments with the doors closed, except that kegs or other common-source containers are never allowed in the residence halls. As prescribed by state law, it is illegal to sell alcohol without a permit and no one under age 21 is permitted to consume alcohol.

The University of Washington is committed to maintaining an environment of teaching and learning which is free of illicit drugs and alcohol. In compliance with the requirements of the Drug Free Schools and Communities Act, all students and employees of the University of Washington are notified of the following:

 - a. Students and employees who are found to be in violation of this stated prohibition may be subject to arrest and conviction under the applicable criminal laws of local municipalities, the State of Washington, or the United States. Conviction can result in sanctions including probation, fines and imprisonment.
 - b. Students who are found to be in violation of this stated prohibition are subject to discipline in accordance with the requirements and procedures of the Student Conduct Code (WAC 478-120). Discipline may include disciplinary probation or dismissal from the University.

- c. Faculty and staff employees who are found to be in violation of this stated prohibition are subject to discipline in accordance with the applicable University employment rules and procedures. Discipline may include salary reduction, suspension or termination of employment.
2. The University of Washington Administrative Policy Statement 13.7 (APS) is found on-line at the APS web-site. It contains the provisions of the University's Alcohol and Drug Abuse Policy. Visit the APS web-site at <http://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/APS/13.07.html>

Employees and students should be aware that:

- a. It is dangerous to use and abuse alcohol and other drugs, and that many illnesses and deaths have been medically related to the use and abuse of illicit drugs and alcohol;
 - b. The University has declared itself to be a drug-free work and educational environment;
 - c. Confidential counseling and referral services for the employees with concerns about alcohol or drug dependency are available from the University's Employee Assistance Program, UW Care Link, which provides employee assistance services for faculty and staff, dependents in the location nationwide, and family or household members. Information about UW Care Link is found on the University of Washington Human Resources web-site at <http://www.washington.edu/admin/hr/benefits/worklife/carelink/>
3. In addition to the above requirements, and in accordance with the requirements of the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988, all employees are notified that the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensing, possession, or use of controlled substances (as defined in 21 U.S.C. §912) is prohibited in the workplace. An employee convicted of a criminal violation occurring in the workplace involving a controlled substance must notify his/her supervisor, dean, and the Vice Provost for Research within 5 days of the conviction. If the employee is supported on federal funds, the Vice Provost for Research is required to inform the appropriate federal agency of this conviction within 10 days of the employee's notification. Further, the University will, with regard to such an employee, take appropriate disciplinary action, and/or require such an employee to participate satisfactorily in an approved drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program.
