What defines the students and faculty of the University of Washington? Above all, it’s our belief in possibility and our unshakable optimism. It’s a connection to others, both near and far. It’s a hunger that pushes us to tackle challenges and pursue progress. It’s the conviction that together we can create a world of good. And it’s our determination to Be Boundless.

Half of UW undergraduates graduate with no known debt, and those who borrow graduate with less debt than the national average. In 2013-14, the average undergraduate debt was $21,532 at the time of graduation. UW undergraduates received over $300 million in financial aid in 2014–15, with student loans comprising 40% of the funds. Almost 60% of aid was in the form of grants and scholarships — and doesn’t need to be repaid.

30% of UW resident undergraduates (almost 10,000 students) were eligible for Husky Promise which provides free tuition to WA students with financial need. huskypromise.uw.edu

Almost 5,600 UW resident undergraduates received more than $44 million in Washington State Need Grants in 2014–15.

23% of UW undergraduates are eligible for the Pell Grant.
